B.G. Sale Law Set

BELLE GLADE — Fly-by-night merchandisers will be discouraged from setting up stands in Belle Glade with the drawing of an ordinance setting stiff requirements for licensing, commissioners agreed Wednesday night.

In an adjourned meeting of last Wednesday's regular meeting, Mayor Harold Rabin heard discussions on regulating itinerant vendors under an ordinance similar to a Coral Gables ordinance read by City Attorney Claude Jones. Commissioners Walter Ashley and H. O. Carlton with Herman Close agreed to the proposals which are to be set forth in an ordinance to be presented by Jones at the regular January 12 commission meeting.

Merchants' Division members of the Chamber of Commerce and other interested persons have advised the commissioners of the need for regulating itinerant vendors. Provisions of the proposed law are, license to be granted only after applicant personally appears before commission to request it, applicant must pay fee based on a percentage, yet to be set, of gross sales, city tax collector to have title of applicant's stock, applicant of applicants' stock, applicant would have to post bond.

Mr. A. Wall resigned as city engineer, resignation to be effective upon replacement, but not later than January 15. The commission accepted his resignation with regret.

Carlton, as street commissioner, was authorized to gutter an alley behind Ave. A adjacent to the police station and to curb and gutter a portion of street near Sullivan's drug store. Cost of both jobs to be $972.50.

Water works needed were discussed by Ashley and commission, and it was decided to investigate the availability of necessary equipment to install a raw water line across the Hillsboro Canal at the city dump. Dragline equipment and piling were thought to be readily available but a large from which to vestigate the availability of necessary equipment to install a raw water line across the Hillsboro Canal at the city dump. Dragline equipment and piling were thought to be readily available but a large from which to vestigate the availability of necessary equipment to install a raw water line across the Hillsboro Canal at the city dump.

In other actions, commission: AUTHORIZED installation of a 15-ton air conditioner to replace a 12-ton unit now in use in the city hall. Cost to be $225. Contract let to Southeastern Bottled Gas Company with full trade-in allowance on present unit.

PURCHASED a 4 x 5 pump to be used in tandem with a pump already on hand to draw water from the city raw water line. Total cost of pumps to be $794.14 which includes payment of $150.00 cover cost of the pump recently installed but not paid for.

Glades Market Sets State Record

BELLE GLADE — With a state record of 50,005 head handled in 1954, the Glades Livestock Market, now five years old, gained the position of the state's largest livestock market, according to Manager George C. Young. "Our total dollar value for the year was $23,224,803," he added.

This week, Market Auctioneer R. D. Cooper, in celebration of the market's success sold the 50,000th animal for Mrs. Joe Cherry, Jr., who as Miss Nadine Raulerson, sold the first animal ever to go through the market in May of 1950. Gotham Provision Co., Miami, purchased the now famous animal, a 920 - pound steer for $20.00.

This steer was fattened entirely on grass on the Florida Commission Company ranch owned by Raulerson and Niblack.

The market, which is owned and operated 100% by and for Glades cattlemen was established through the cooperation of the Palm Beach County Cattlemen's Association, the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, and the Chamber of Commerce of the Chamber of Commerce.

Designed to set up a marketing facility which would ensure market prices being received for cattle at all times, the Livestock Market Association also sought to help Glades cattlemen pool their knowledge of cattle raising for the greater gain of all, and to give cattlemen an opportunity to operate their business of cattle buying and selling in their own area.

First President

Roy Vandegrift, Sr., was the first president of the Association and the market building, financed by Jose Moran, opened on May 12, 1950. By February, 1952 the Association had progressed to the point that it purchased the market facilities. Total assets of the organization are now in excess of $150,000. Young said.

Present officers are John L. Evans, president, Leland C. Pearce, vice president and T.W. Knight, secretary-treasurer. The board members are Frank Wilson, Fritz Stein, E. M. VanLandingham and Vandegrift.

A WOMAN'S WORLD IN PRODUCE

BY MRS. JOHN A. DULANY

More than 100 years of experience in Glades growing, marketing and administration is represented by the business women pictured above who represent firms which ship approximately half of the vegetable tonnage shipped from the Glades.

Shown are Mrs. Simmons, office manager of South Bay Growers, Inc., South Bay; Mrs. Griffith-Williams Farms, Inc., Pahokee; Mrs. Jack Barwick, buying broker, Pahokee; Mrs. Farrow, president, W. H. Vann, Inc., Pahokee; Mrs. Christine Fraser, secretary of W. H. Vann, Inc., Pahokee; Mrs. Ruth S. Wedgworth, president, Wedgworth Produce, Inc., Belle Glade; and Mrs. Dulany, luncheon hostess and Glades correspondent for "The Packer" newspaper.

As many may have suspected, the produce industry is not wholly a "man's world."

The fairer sex plays an important role in the vegetable industry of the fertile Lake Okechobee section of the fabulous Everglades—the biggest fresh vegetable market in the eastern half of the United States, often designated as the "Winter Vegetable Basket" of the nation.

These women have a major part in almost every phase and activity of the vegetable deal—the growing, packing, buying, shipping, and business office operations.

Despite the fact that the rich mucklands produce some 26 varieties of vegetables in commercial quantities, and an additional dozen or more for home consumption, it has taken a great deal of patience and scientific know-how to attain the reputation this section has for producing superior quality.

Ultra-modern methods and specialized, costly machinery and equipment for water control, planting, cultivating, harvesting, packing and pre-cooling vegetables, plus varied fertilizers and insecticides, have played a major part in these accomplishments.

RESERVATIONS FOR ROGERS LUNCHEON

PAHOKEE — Local Lions have invited the public to their regular Tuesday meeting at 12:15 at the Woman's Club to hear Paul Rogers, candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District.

Reservations may be made through noon Monday by telephoning Lion President Ralph O. Johnson at 7274. The luncheon fee is $1.00, Johnson said.

REFERENDUM IN SO. BAY JAN. 14

SOUTH BAY — Jan. 14 has been set by City Commission for a special referendum on a bond issue for $125,000 to be used for street improvements, water works and retirement for city hall mortgage.

Question was unresolved this week as to eligibility rules for free holders to vote on public works which will increase tax millage but tend to reduce fire insurance rates commensurate.

An emergency garbage ordinance was passed Monday at the regular meeting making it payable monthly with water bills. Patrolman Lester Rhuddy was placed on permanent appointment and hospitalization and uniform allowance was granted him.

Plans are set for a ground breaking ceremony within the next two months, according to Dr. Townsend Rev. J. C. Petrie is rector of the church and vestrymen are Emmett Roberts, Ed. Lively, W. B. Matthews, Jr., Donald Parke and Grant Averill.

JAIL BREAKERS HUNT CONTINUES

BELLE GLADE — Search continues at OBSERVER prestime for four prison escapees here.

According to Chief of Police Charles Goodlett, the men who escaped from city jail sometime between 11:30 p.m. and 3:30 a.m. Wednesday were still the object of a widespread search.

The prisoners are Henry Johnson, James Ferguson, James Page and Herman Hardy. All are Negroes and the first two mentioned have previously attempted escapes.

Constable Buford Prescott, Deputy Sheriff Ray Howard, Sgt. Byron Whitehurst and Patrolman Jake Ryan are in the hunt as well as officers in police departments of adjacent communities, according to police informants.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCE PLANNED AT LEGION

PAHOKEE — Legionnaires and their guests will bid farewell to 1954 and welcome 1955 at a dance tonight at Legion Hall beginning at 8 o'clock, according to Paul Collier, chairman of the event.

Admission of $2.00 per couple will go toward purchasing favors and paying expenses of the dance, Collier said. Members and their guests are urged to attend this colorful affair. W. A. Slaughter is assisting in arranging the program, it was announced.

Zoning Is Subject

PAHOKEE — Details of the proposed new zoning ordinance will be discussed Tuesday at 1 p.m. at City Hall with Frederick Bair, Jr., executive secretary of Planning and Zoning Association, according to Robert Apelgren, Pahokee zoning commission chairman.

Zoning commissioners met Wednesday night and in telephonic conversation with Bair arranged for him to come here to iron out details of his proposal so that the commission can prepare for a public hearing on zoning.

Proposals for zoning now envision an ordinance which would repair the old zoning ordinance and replace it with a new revised one, according to Bair.

Members of the Zoning Commission appointed by Pahokee Commissioners in their Dec. 13 meeting are Apelgren, elected chairman this week, Wiley Tillis, Mills Sanders, Otto Block, Joe Kahn and Louis Gold, alternate.

HARBOR PLANS SET FOR MON.

PAHOKEE — Proposals for breakwater plans will be presented city commissioners next Monday by Herbert Gee as a result of Monday's commission meeting.

Gee, of the engineering firm of Gee and Jensen, Inc., drew the preliminary plans which were the basis for the approval of a $200,000 loan from the Federal Improvement Fund to the City of Pahokee for construction of the structure tentatively planned to be 1,200 feet long. This week's commission meeting was adjourned until Monday at which time Col. Gee will have definite proposals for commissioners' consideration, according to Mayor Lewis Friend.

Commissioner Loren Meredith, president of the commission, meeting and heard a motion for granting 10% discount to water users on their bills on or before the tenth of the month for the preceding month's rent. Commissioners James H. Wilcox and Robert Simmons gave their assent, also, and the ordinance was passed on first reading so as to be effective for the December bills about to be sent out.

The form of deed for the clinic site land adjacent to Everglades Memorial Hospital, was approved and the county was granted an easement for ingress and egress on their property in another commission action.

The rules were waived and an ordinance providing for loading of stall space on a half year basis, perpetually available for daily rental; provides for rental of stall space on a half year basis, institutes a drawing in October of next year for apportionment of space; and makes provision for return of fees paid to ramp users if in five years an off-the-street ramp site has not been provided or negotiations are not underway for such facility.

SITES SURVEYED FOR ROADSIDE PARK

PAHOKEE — State Road Board representatives from Fort Lauderdale surveyed sites for roadside park to be built from a $25,000 fund approved by the Road Board, according to Mayor Lewis Friend.

Several park sites are being considered for this attraction which will provide a stopping place for tourists and a recreation place for local residents, Friend said.

JANUS OF TWO FACES

Janus, the ancient Roman god of gates and doors, was two faced. Legend says that he had to see the comings and goings of all his worshippers and for that reason had eyes in the back of his head so as not to miss anything.

Although history says that the two faces of Janus represented the inside and outside of a door, custom has come to ascribe duplicity rather than duality of vision to him. Janus was also god of begin- nings, the idea being that doors were gateways to happenings of one kind or another. The most permanent and lasting happen- ing is the beginning of a new year. Janus takes its name from Janus as the lord of initial experience. In all calendars since Roman times Janus has been the first month. To look back with Janus to the past ten years, what was ending in 1945 was but a pre- lude to that which we have since experienced. In February of that year the Yalta Agree- ment was signed, in November the United States and Great Britain with Canada agreed that atomic information would not be shared until the UN adopted a control plan. Meanwhile the German line crumbled and the Allies regained 100 square miles everywhere and it is hoped that S. troops entered Manila, Jose Jima was stormed and taken after 25 days. The UN parley began in

LOOKING INTO THE FACTS...
 UTILIZATION OF ROUGHAGES
 Quoting Dr. W. M. Beeson of Purdue, Martin Newell writes in FEEDSTUFFS: "... sugar and ash content of molasses contributes effectively to the utilization of roughages as well as adding palatability to the diet. When fed in small amounts (1 1/2 lbs. per day) molasses has about the same energy value as corn, but at higher levels (4 to 5 lbs. per day) this value is reduced to 85 to 75% of corn." Dr. Beeson also observed that trace minerals probably are needed in Purdue-type formulas if dicalcium phosphate is substituted for bone meal. Alfalfa meal contains some unknown factor or factors which improve the utilization of roughages and significantly increase the growth rate of steers.

1955 IS HERE

... And just like any youngster, we're poppin' with delight over the occasion!

We're so pleased for your business... your patience in being served while we were searching for expert personnel to fill our staff... for your spectacular note of confidence in the wonderful welcome you have given us.

We're growing up together, The Glades and Belk's. If there is anything you like or dislike, let us know! We are eager to know what you want, and how you like to shop. It's great growing up, and we promise that even before the sounds of the New Year's bells have died upon the air, 1955 will find us improving, growing and constantly endeavoring to bring you the best in service, quality and value.
